A worker wearing a red jacket, a grey cap, and a black face mask is kneeling on a wooden deck. He is using a brush to apply a substance from a white bucket. The deck is made of weathered wooden planks. In the background, there is a building with a window that has a white metal grille. To the right of the worker, there is a concrete path and a green fence. A black pipe runs along the edge of the deck. A white bucket with a yellow label is on the deck next to the worker. A black sign with white text is in the foreground.
